

Internship Offer

audio CC is an international ad-tech company which provides radio stations and sales houses worldwide with a new, innovative IT system. This system allows radio stations to sell advertising campaigns with a greater level of flexibility and helps them to manage their limited inventory of ad space, while getting rid of many manual processes and work.

We are currently looking for a Sales Manager Intern (m/f/x).

Do you enjoy working with people and are you looking for an internship which you can build your career on?

We are now looking for a talent who, as a first step, wants to gain experience abroad by living and working in Düsseldorf, a city with a high living standard in Germany. From our office in Düsseldorf our experienced sales team will train you and provide you all skills and sales material you need to be successful in our business market.

You will then scale our business internationally by getting in touch with international customers for the first time, both over the phone and in personal meetings, and convincing them to switch to our software.

Thus, we provide you the opportunity to not only visit Germany, but also many other places all around the world.

What we expect

- Bachelor's degrees or higher with a business, intercultural or technology background.
- English as a native language or an equal good English skill as a foreign language
- Strong organization skills.
- Great communication skills in person and on the phone.
- Winning and convincing character.

What we offer

- Work in an international young team with flexible work hours in a central office location.
- Enjoy working within different cultures and working with customers from all around the world.

- You receive a monthly gross salary of 1.600 euros. We help to find accommodation, which you have to pay from the monthly salary. We pay for the flights.
- We are also interested in continuing our relationship on a regular contract basis after the internship.

We want to get to know you!

Are you interested? If that's the case, please send your application documents to:

Theresa Ortmann
hr@audio-cc.com